ONLY A FEW DAYS

Remain to Make Preparations for the Home-Coming

We have consulted the almanac; have been in communication with the weather man and have communicated with the oarles who has read the stars and the proclamation has been issued stating that the weather on the dates of the Perrysburg Home-Coming will be splendid for the use of red lemonade, ice cream cones and cool soft drinks; which, being interpreted, means that the sun will shine on August 5, 6, 7 and 8, 1914, and that there will be one gay, great, grand, gorgeous, glorious, generous, gigantic galaxy of glittering glorification of attractions that will make the Perrysburg Home-Coming an event that will go down in the history of the Maumee valley as the days of days of all the years that are passed, and will set the pace for all the years to come.

The Journal man while conversing with Judge George A. Bassett of Toledo recently was pleased to hear him refer to the home-coming at Perrysburg, and emphatically declare that he will be present on that occasion. Judge Bassett spent several years of his youth in Perrysburg and was one of the Journal staff during that time, and his love for the old town has not grown cold and he will find many a warm hand to greet him when he "comes home."

Manager Lownsbury requests the Journal to keep the lid on a little longer and then he will let us give out all the particulars of the program. At present he just winks the other eye, and says just wait a few days longer and then I'll give you a look at a program that will make you think you have just had a peek at a new world. And Lownsbury knows.

WILL YOU ADOPT A CHILD

State Board of Charities Seeking Homes for Children.

In the State of Ohio there are many little children who for various reasons have been bereft of parents. They have an unspeakable heart-hunger for that parental love and sympathy which cannot be found in an orphanage.

Many of the best citizens of Ohio have a great longing for the affection and love of a promising child, because they are childless. The Board of State Charities, through its Children's Welfare Department, is seeking to bring them together.

Under the new Children's Code, the Juvenile Court Judges are permitted to commit dependent children direct to the Board of State Charities.

In addition to the children committed direct to the Board of State Charities, some of the County Children's Homes have requested the Board to assist in securing suitable family homes for such of their children as are orphaned or for other reasons cannot be returned to their own parents.

The Board of State Charities has arranged to have every child upon reception given a thorough physical and mental examination. It is also making an effort to secure an extensive family history, in order that it may be determined, as far as possible, that the child to be placed in the family home is mentally and physically normal.

Any person interested in taking into his home one of these children is requested to communicate with the Ohio Board of State Charities, Children's Welfare Department, Columbus.

ASLEEP IN A BOAT

Bowling Green Man Falls in River and Drowns.

On Saturday afternoon last Jesse Miller, 34, and Fred Johnson, 55, of Bowling Green came over to the river and after procuring a boat they went out on the river a short distance above the Bowling Green railway bridge. About midnight they fell asleep in the boat, according to Johnson's statement, who said when he awoke about 2 o'clock, Miller was missing, although his coat and hat were in the boat.

Johnson procured assistance and the river was dragged for the body, the search continuing Sunday and Monday, when the body was found nearly a quarter of a mile down stream from where the boat had been anchored.

The body was taken to Witzler's undertaking rooms and prepared for burial.

Deceased was unmarried and lived with his mother in Bowling Green. He had been employed as engineer by the Modern Motor Company.

PROTECTION FROM FIRE

To Build or Not to Build is the Important Question.

The following letter very plainly calls attention to conditions prevailing in our village which are worthy of careful consideration.

My Dear Mr. Blue:—

While the subject is in my mind, I feel like using the columns of your paper (with your permission), to make a few statements about the burning of Rustic Lodge on Friday last.

You know, I believe, with what interest and personality the Lodge was constructed, and embodied ideas conceived from years of observation, as an ideal summer home, and to have it consumed in one short hour by fire has about taken our courage from attempting a rebuilding.

In the first place, I feel that I overlooked precautions in building as to fire protection, and was greatly surprised, at the time of the fire, when aid was summoned from the Perrysburg Fire Department, to find that all the Department could do was to help remove the furniture, and was powerless to use any water, as the supply of hose and distance from a hydrant prevented it.

I realize that I am just outside of corporate limits, nevertheless, I feel that I am a part of Perrysburg and my interests are growing in Perrysburg, and before I give any thoughts to rebuilding, must settle in my mind how I am to protect my property (for I am at a substantial loss in the present instance) and I do not wish to think of a repetition of what I have gone through.

I have not given any thought or consideration before this as to how Perrysburg has provided fire protection for its property owners, but before rebuilding intend acquainting myself in this direction, and also investigate requirements for my own surroundings.

In the first instance, I feel that IMMEDIATELY there should be installed a hydrant at the intersection of East Boundary Street for the protection of my remaining buildings, as there is no hydrant nearer, I believe, than Mr. Manley's property, and sufficient hose, if not already provided, to reach the river bank.

I further feel that at this time, when Perrysburg is looking forward to attracting others like myself to make Perrysburg their home, that a careful investigation should be made by Council as to whether the present equipment of the Fire Department is sufficient for the needs of the town.

It must be realized that if Perrysburg is to advance and grow into a residential suburb, and this means an addition of a class of citizens most desired, that fire protection for their homes, as well as schools and churches, is among the most essential requirements.

Please not understand that I am criticizing the Fire Department. They did all in their power but the means at their command were against them.

As I have said, I believe Council should give the present lack of protection for the town serious consideration, and, personally, I should be pleased to co-operate with them in obtaining expert advice as to our requirements, and when these recommendations are carried out, I shall feel more free in considering the rebuilding of Rustic Lodge.

Cordially yours,
WM. S. WALBRIDGE.

CURED OF INDIGESTION.

Mrs. Sadie P. Clawson, Indiana, Pa., was bothered with indigestion. "My stomach pained me night and day," she writes. "I would feel bloated and have headache and belching after eating. I also suffered from constipation. My daughter had used Chamberlain's Tablets and they did her so much good that she gave me a few doses of them and insisted upon my trying them. They helped me as nothing else has done." For sale by all dealers.

SAFE AND SANE FOURTH

Fire Marshal Requests Parents to Restrict Use of Explosives.

The newspapers of Ohio have given such general and able editorial support to the idea of a safe and sane Fourth of July as to render, almost superfluous, the issuance of a bulletin on the subject by this department.

Since the adoption generally, by our cities and villages in 1910 of ordinances, either prohibiting the sale entirely or strictly regulating the use of fireworks and the dangerous explosives which had come into such common use, the number of injuries and deaths incident to the celebration has been almost wiped out.

The practical results thus obtained should be a sufficient guaranty against a reversion to the old order of things, which had caused many to refer to what was once called "glorious" as the "barbarous" Fourth.

It may be well to recall the number of casualties which have resulted incident to the celebration in years past. In 1903, throughout the United States, 466 people were killed and 3,983 injured, and in 1909 there were 215 killed and 5,092 injured. Last year, after public sentiment had forced the enactment by many cities and villages of regulatory ordinances, the number of killed was 32 and injured, 1,131.

Quoting from one of our newspapers: "The total number of deaths in 11 years, as a direct result of Fourth of July celebrations, is 1,792 and the total number of injured, 39,488, making a grand total of 41,280." The figures would seem to render comment unnecessary, being frightful enough upon their face.

WOODMEN MEMORIAL.

On Sunday last the members of Way Camp W. O. W., of Perrysburg and the members of the Ladies Circle held their memorial services and decorated the graves of their departed friends.

Considering the inclemency of the weather the attendance was larger than was expected and the procession headed by the new band made a very fine appearance.

Arriving at the cemetery the ritualistic ceremonies of the order was conducted, the programme being in charge of Squire M. B. Cook as Consul Commander.

The oration was delivered by Hon. Benjamin F. James of Bowling Green, who greatly interested his hearers by his scholarly and eloquent address.

Mr. George B. Fulton of North Baltimore was also one of the interesting speakers.

The ceremonies were of much interest and gave evidence of the success and excellent condition of Way Camp and its Auxiliary society.

SOME OBSERVATIONS

Concerning Nothing Very Serious But Worthy of Thought.

One of the causes assigned for the failure of the great Clafin dry goods corporation is said to be the putting off of petticoats by the women of this country. Here is another proof of the statement that women have the power to make or break.

Determined to keep himself in the limelight of publicity Henry Ford is now placing some of his millions in a hospital wherein he is determined to discover a cure for cancer. We hope Henry may be as successful in that work as he has been in the auto trade. The little Ford has entered almost everywhere and now it may prove a cure for cancer.

The wisdom of the world is past our understanding. Every day somebody, wiser than his fellows, brings to light something from the dim past that shatters the belief we have held for years. The very latest bump to upset our simple faith in the legends of our forefathers is the statement of a learned scientist who declares that the story of Eve eating the apple is untrue. He claims to have proof that it was Noah who ate of the fruit of the tree of knowledge, and that it happened several years after the flood, since which time man has been compelled to work for a living. We feel greatly relieved by this bit of information as we always felt it was very unjust to man that he should be compelled to do the work when the woman ate the apple. But it's all right now.

Next thing to expect, will be the proof that George Washington could tell a lie; and that he never had a hatchet; that Caesar never played the fiddle, and that Solomon's temple was only a little old Jewish synagog. Oh, what's the use?

A letter from Mr. W. S. Walbridge, published in this paper, contains much food for thought, and is worthy of careful consideration. Villages like Perrysburg generally realize the inadequacy of fire protection after a great loss has occurred. The mere fact that Perrysburg has a water system with hydrants stationed at various points in the town, is but a slight guarantee of protection from fire. The real fact is—that our department is not equipped with proper hose to make a successful fight against such a fire as might occur at any time. Efforts should also be made to extend the mains to reach the extreme boundaries of the village. If Perrysburg is to be a real, live, progressive, up-to-date town, hoping to attract people here because of our great advantages as a residence town, we must prepare to at least give protection. Perrysburg is a beautiful village and surrounded by charming scenery, but very few people care to live on scenery alone—there must be other comforts provided if we would attract to our town a worthy class of citizens.
